In appreciation of Louise's Throat Rattle

Having been presented on the third of March.

On an evening on a fair weather day

At a fair, on a holiday...

Coming through the air like a flying fortress,

As you take a drink from the ladle you love so...

Michael heard it he said "Do it again".

Michael, in his twelve-dollar suit, said "Do it again".

I think you hurt him, Louise, when you walked away.

Oh Louise, I think you hurt him.
