

Name Your Game

Words and Music Copyright 2001 Robert Edgar

Some folks play for freedom

Some people play for power

Some souls play for sweet revenge

Some to breathe another hour

Name your game, name your game.

Name your game, name your game.

Some folks play to understand

Others play to win.

Some folks play to find life fair,

Some play with a grin.

Name your game, name your game.

Name your game, name your game.

Some folks need to read the rules

Some get off living as fools

Others suckle love instead

Sinking angels moan "Better off dead"

Name your game, name your game.

Name your game, name your game.

Some people play for Jesus

Some for an alibi.

Some try to draw the face of man

Or scribble the night sky.

Name your game, name your game.

Name your game, name your game.

Sometimes I play to name myself

Sometimes by sketching someone else

Sometimes I just play...

Name your game, name your game.

Name your game, name your game.
